EYE CANDY

Makeup mavens have reason to celebrate this spring with the launch of Urban Decay's limited-edition collections marking the brand's 20th anniversary. Take the UD XX Vice Ltd Reloaded eye shadow palette ($56), for example. It features many of the line's most iconic shades, along with a few new must-haves. But a highlight of the season for founder and Chief Creative Officer Wende Zomnir is a special collection of lipsticks, shadows, blushes and bronzers ($18 to $45) that is the result of a collaboration with O.C. native and ultimate cool girl Gwen Stefani. "Gwen inspired me so much when I was first starting Urban Decay, and I've waited years for this project," says Zomnir. "This couldn't be a more perfect way to celebrate 20 years." The two spent countless hours working together at Stefani's home, trading makeup secrets, creating new shades and palettes, and even designing the packaging. And Stefani personally tested more than 50 lipstick blends, striving to strike the perfect texture and shade. The final selection of eight colors are a complement to her signature bold lips and boast a rich mix of finishes. And then there's Stefani's blushes and bronzers, and the eye shadow palette of shades she says she's always dreamed of compiling in a collection. "When Urban Decay came to me to collaborate, I immediately thought it was a perfect match," says the songstress and style icon. "It's about self-expression, being passionate and being clear about your vision and who you are. I love that they celebrate strong women and creatively go outside of the box." Fashion Island, 1085 Newport Center Drive, Newport Beach, 949.644.6550, urbandecay.com —Michelle Pulfrey
